

BOOM. OKAY. THAT HAPPENED.
WELCOME TO 2018.

I set goals for this year, I made a schedule, I resolved to change things that have been holding me back. Then I sat down in front of my machine in 2018 and a barrage of emails, projects and half-baked briefs rained down on me till I couldn't remember my name any more. The kids, the school, the dogs, the in-laws, the unpaid traffic fines and all that other stuff came back and reminded me why I was always so mashed at the end of the day. So, this month got away from me a bit. I think I have my head around that now. I can begin again, again.
